2. Course Description

Islamic banking financial management is a course that discusses banking financial management in Indonesia. This course discusses historical issues, institutional operating systems, riba, maisir and gharar. This course also discusses the aspects of bank management, which includes management of capital, funds, financing, liquidity, marketing, risk, and others. The demand for handling Islamic banks in accordance with Islamic values is a significant issue in the discussion of Islamic bank management. Various thoughts were outlined in redesigning and designing Islamic bank management courses according to the Indonesian context. It is hoped that students will be able to develop critical and analytical thinking in evaluating and utilizing various theories in various decision-making situations in the field of Islamic banking financial management.
